THE PITTS FAMILY HISTORY

The name originated in Normandy. There was a Richard and a Turstin Peet mentioned in 1098. The name has various spellings. The English spellings for the name is Pitts, Pitt, Pyts, Pyte, Pytt, Pite, Pittis, Pitz and Pits. In Dutch it is usually Piet and Pitt. The Flemish spelling is Piette and the French spelling is Pitte. The only way I was able to follow the family lineage back was to follow the family crest of the Pitt Family of Dorset, England. These records were confirmed by Robert Cooke during the reign of Queen Elizabeth 1st and was established according to the "Arms and Crests" and is listed in the Hereford-English Records.

The first listing I could find in England was with Gervase De La Puette, appearing in Sussex, in 1182. According to arms of this man and the men in Normandy, they were the fore runners of the Pitts of Dorset from whom we descend. I could not find any proof that Gervase De La Puette was related to the Peet in Normandy. There was another Pitts descendant listed in 1043 according the book "Visitation of Surrey" that was printed in 1662, but no lineage was given.

The arms of the Pitts Family were: "Sable, a fess chequy argent and azure between bezants". The shield is of red; The fesse is composed of a double row of squares alternating gold and blue; the bezants are of gold (Bezants represent gold coins); the mantle and wreath are of gold and red; the stork is of silver, its beak and legs are red; the bezant of the crest is of gold. Each family had it's own arms. This the way one determined what line of ancestry one belonged to.

It was only around the 13th century when people began using surnames. Found in the Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames by Bardsley is how the Pitts name came into existence. It was given to families whose residence was beside a hole, whether a natural hole or artificial. Such as a coal pit, a tar pit, or a stone pit.

The following is a list of the Pitts Family descendants as proven so far: (OUR LINE WILL BE IN BOLD CAPITAL LETTERS)

- (1) GERVASE DE LA PUETTE, he came from Normandy before 1182, when he was living in Sussex. There was no listing of his wife's name, only his son Thomas*.
- (2) THOMAS DE LA PITTE, living in Sommerset, England in 1225.
son Simon
- (3) SIMON DE LA PITTE, De Shotte Brok, served from 1216 to 1272 for King Henry III.
son Thomas
- (4) THOMAS ITHE PUTTE, living near Worcestershire in 1278.
son Robert
- (5) ROBERT INTHE PYTE, b.1284, d.1361
son Simon
- (6) SIMON ATTE PITTE, served in the king's service from 1327 to 1377 for King Edward III.
son Richard
- (7) RICHARD PYTS, (one place his name was shown as Robert) served from 1399 to 1433 for King Henry IV.

[1] John Pitt (from this line the Earl of Chatham descended.

Children:

<1> Thomas Pitt was Governor of St. George Madras, he owned the famous Pitt Diamond.) He was the Clerk of the Exchequer to Queen Elizabeth. He married Joan, daughter of John Swayne of Blandford Forum, Dorset.

Children:

{3} 3rd son of above Thomas was Thomas Pitt, purchased the advowsons of Blandford St. Marys, Dorset and resided there. He married Priscilla Searle.

Children:

(1) The Reverend John Pitt, eldest son of Thomas and Priscilla, born in 1641 and died in 1672, was Rector of Blandford St. Marys. His wife was Sarah, daughter of John Jay.

Children:

[1] 2nd son of the above John and Sarah was Thomas, the Governor of Fort St. George, East Indies.

The following is an excerpt is about Thomas Pitt, Governor of the East Indies.

 On February 20, 1682, a small fleet of trading vessels hurriedly left the Thames. They carried with them Lord Chatham's grandfather, who had been forbidden to leave the country. Letters were immediately despatched by the Governors of the East India Company to warn their agents in India of this 'fellow of a haughty, huffing daring temper.' He was to be arrested at once; and 'when you have got him into your custody be sure secure him, he being a desperate fellow and one that we fear will not stick at doing any mischief that lies in his power.' There was no arrest.*

Thomas Pitt made rings round the Company. He raced their ships to India, collected a private army of Portuguese and half-castes which scared the Company's servants into respectful caution, and carried on a roaring trade which was so profitable that he was able to leave seven months later with a fortune. This was the second fortune he had made in India through resolute and violent action and in defiance of the power and authority of the Company. He was just thirty years of age. Yet, in the end, it was the Company which had to make peace with Pitt.

In 1698 he was appointed Governor of their finest factory, Fort St. George, at Madras. There his name became a byword for outrageous temper, but trade flourished and British power grew stronger. Nor did Governor Pitt neglect his own pocket. He dabbled in diamonds and risked £25,000 on one of the largest stones ever discovered in India. It took him thirteen years to get the price which he thought it was worth. But in 1717 he sold it for £133,000 to the Regent of France. The ownership of land and the control of seats in Parliament were the ways rich merchants bought themselves a place in society and government during the eighteenth century. And they followed it up, if they could, with the marriage of their children into aristocracy. As Pitt had made his fortunes, so he had laid out his money in this way, buying the estate of Boconnoc in Cornwall for £53,000 and many other properties in Dorset, Berkshire and London. He also obtained complete control of the rotten borough of Old Sarum, which returned two members of Parliament; his power at Okehampton, a Devon borough, was almost as great. And he saw his children married into aristocratic families. Yet it all had a bitter taste for Governor Pitt. His wealth, acquired with such resolution, was squandered by his extravagant children. He quarrelled with his wife. He loathed his sons and daughters--"the cockatrice brood of Pitts" as he called them. In his family all was rage and violence and hate.

Already in India Governor Pitt had been notorious for the ferocity of his temper. His language could acquire an apocalyptic fury which burnt itself into men's memories. The smouldering fire of his temperament flashed out in all his actions. At times he seemed poised on the brink of insanity. Men deferred to him, subordinates feared him. To the very end of his days he was ignorant of friendship, ignorant of the warmth and ease of life.

Then suddenly the heart of this stark, terrifying character was touched by one of his grandchildren, William Pitt. Whenever he could he sent over to Eton from his house at Swallowfield to fetch the boy and his 'comrouges'. The long afternoons passed quietly with tales of Indian adventure. The old man lived again the tempestuous scenes of his youth and taught his young listener that trade and wealth could be won only by risk and violence, a lesson which Pitt was never to forget. "He is a hopeful lad," Governor Pitt wrote to his father, "and doubt not but that he will answer yours and all his friends' expectations." The old man was right to be proud, for, by his grandson, his attitude of life was to be exalted into a nation's creed. Yet from his grandfather Pitt derived a dark inheritance.

William Pitt, the elder, was born on November 15, 1708, at Golden Square, London. He was the 1st Earl of Chatham. He was very active in politics. William Pitt the younger followed his famous father into politics. When Napoleon became emperor of France, he took possession of the famous "PITT DIAMOND" and wore it is the handle of his sword. The "PITT DIAMOND" remains one of the most prized of the French Crown Jewels. He died in 1726, and his wife Jane, daughter of James Innes, died in 1727.

[1] Robert Pitt of Boconnor was son of Thomas. He married Harriet, third sister of John Villiers, Earl of Grandison, and represented the famous borough of Old Sarum in Parliament. He died in 1727 and his wife in 1736.

Children:

{1} They were the parents of William Pitt, 1st Earl of Chatham. He was Prime Minister of England, born in 1708 and died in 1778, was buried in Westminster Abbey.

Colonel Robert Pitt of Bristol and Isle of Wight, like several of his family was at first a mariner. He was captain of a privateer of Bristol named the "Thunder,". He fought in the war of 1628 against France in aid of the Huguenots. (Bristol Privateers, Powell, p.84) His grandfather Thomas Pitt was part owner of the "Fortune" in 1588 and an inventory of the estate of his uncle, late merchant of Bristol, taken 4 Oct 1583, shows that Edward was part owner of the "Unicorn". Colonel Robert Pitt's brother, William Pitt owned the "Mary Rose" and the "Supply" in 1627.

Colonel Robert Pitt was a large dealer in land and servants. As "Robert Pitt, merchant" he patented 550 acres in the Isle of Wight, the 14th of February, 1637 "about 3½ miles up the New Haven River opposite land on William Denham, now in the occupation of said Pitt, for his own personal adventure and that of ten other persons." He patented 300 acres adjacent to the above land April 17, 1648; as "Lt. Col. Robert Pitt," he patented 1200 acres in the same place June 7, 1654. In 1664 he joined with his son-in-law, Captain Joseph Bridger, and a Mr. William Burgh in patenting 3000 acres upon a branch of the Blackwater. He also patented 1000 acres in Accomac, March 12, 1662, and 3000 acres more in the same county October 2, 1663.

He represented the Isle of Wight in the House of Burgesses, from 1649 to 1660. He was a Lieutenant Colonel commanding the Isle of Wight militia in 1662, and was a member of the Governor's Council.

From a grant to John Brasseur in 1682, it appears that the land descended from George Stevens to "the said Brasseur as marrying Mary, daughter of Col. Robert Pitt." It, therefore, seems that Col. Robert Pitt married a daughter of George Stevens, who was Burgess from Surrey in 1652.

Colonel Pitt made his will June 6, 1672 and the same was proven June 9, 1674. It is recorded in Isle of Wight County, Virginia as follows:

IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN: I Robert Pitt, merchant, being sick and weak of body but praise be God in sound memory do ordain this for my last Will and Testament in manner and form as follows:

John was a Revolutionary Solider from North Carolina and served as captain until 1780. Records show he was first married to Sarah Norseworthy in 1762. She died before 1774. She could have died in Virginia or North Carolina. We could find no record of where she died or where she was buried. He had a neice by this name. Two of John's sisters married brothers name Norseworthy and it is thought that his brother Henry also married a Norseworthy. John had moved from Virginia to South Carolina and in 1776 married Frances Griffin. He came to the Newberry, South Carolina area for awhile to visit his uncle Henry and many cousins. The Pitts in Newberry, Laurens and Old Ninety-six were all related to Captain John.

In Virginia he had lived only a short distance from his father and grandfather's home. They moved to North Carolina, then South Carolina and then to Georgia. He lived in Effingham County, Georgia and was killed in 1787 by "Tory bushwhackers". He was beaten with "lightered knotts" and left dead on the Ogeechee River

2nd wife, Frances Griffin, dau. of Hardy Griffin

b. 1758 d. 1844 m. 1776

*Frances is buried in Effingham County in the family cemetery. A paper company now owns the land. Loggers destroyed the head stones a few years ago. It is called the Reiser Cemetery and is located near Corinth Church about 10 miles north of Savannah, Georgia.

*This information came from Lawerence M. Edwards of 22 Andover Drive, Savannah, Georgia, 31405. Mr. Edwards is a descendant of Obediah Edwards who married Tabitha Pitts, the daughter of Capt. John Pitts, Jr. and Francis Griffin.

Anthony was born in North Carolina about 1765, and was one of 6 children. They were in Halifax County, North Carolina. After Anthony's father was killed it looks as though he had married and lived in Effingham County, Georgia, until about 1820-1821. He had patented land in that county, Lot #56, Lot #61, in 1805 and 1810. He made his way to Perry County, Mississippi, now Jones County. He brought only his family, by that I mean no brothers or sisters. He patented 318 acres at what is now Mt. Moriah, just south of Ellisville, Mississippi. He died about 1825 and is buried $\frac{1}{4}$ mile up the old railroad track (north of the highway). Nancy died in about 1836 and is also buried there. The Hardy family, Anthony's cousins and great uncle came to just outside Ellisville, Mississippi in the early 1800's also. They settled near Hattiesburg, Mississippi. The city of Hattiesburg is name in honor of Mrs. Hardy and one of the main thoroughfare, Hardy Street, was named in honor of the family. Anthony's sister Florena Edwards and her husband James came to Perry County, Mississippi.

Nancy was the daughter of Francis Rawlinson, who was in Effingham County, Georgia. Francis received an English land grant for 200 acres located in St. Matthew Parish (now known as Effingham County) on November 1, 1766*

DANIEL PITTS, SR. AND MARGARETTE WALTERS PITTS

Daniel, Sr. lived to the age of 97. Both Daniel and Margarett were both buried at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church. They were buried the same day. One died one day and the other died the next day. According to Daniel's Claim of Soldier For Service Pension for the War of 1812,⁵ he enlisted in January, 1815, at Savannah, Georgia, in Captain Jesse Scruggs company as a private and in the 13th regiment of the Georgia Militia commanded by Col. Hardin and General Pinkney. He served 3 months and was honorably discharged in April of 1813 at the Springfield Court House in Effingham County, Georgia. He listed his height as 6 feet 4 inches and having dark hair, blue eyes and being of dark complexion. It also says he came to Perry County, Mississippi in 1820. He listed his wife's name as Margaret Walters (we used the traditional spelling above). Jesse Pitts and J. Bryant swore they were present at the time of his enlistment.

Daniel settled on the East side of Boguehoma Creek in what is now Jones County, at the time he came it was Perry County. Mobile was the nearest market and post office. The country was covered with huge forests. There were many bears, wolves, panthers, deer, turkey and other small game. The bears and wolves chased the cattle each night through the settlers homes. Daniel was a farmer. He was a charter member of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, organized in Norvel lived to age 82. He resided in Jones County all his life. He at first lived in "Cracker's Neck" and later moved to South Jones County. He helped organize and build Tiger Creek Baptist Church. He was a charter member. He served in the Confederate Army under Robert E. Lee in Virginia. He was wounded in one hand and when the war was over he walked all the way from Virginia back to Jones County. Upon his return he married Mary Ann Knight, who was a neice of Daniel Jr.'s wife Margaret Knight.

Daniel and Henry, were widely known throughout this area for their music teaching, song writing and singing. They were both good pianist and organists. Henry had five sons, three of which were widely known for their singing and promoting of Gospel singing. The South Jones and Wayne County Conventions was organized in 1912 by Norvell's family.

Daniel was in the civil war and served under Admiral David G. Faragut in the Northern Navy. When he came home, he married Margaret Knight and moved to "Cracker's Neck", in Centerville, and lived there until his death in 1937 at the age of 92. They are both buried in the Big Creek Baptist Church Cemetery, right off highway 84 about 12 miles west of Laurel. The area along Leaf River was much like that around Boguehoma Creek. It was infested with all kinds of wild animals and game. He had a bridge named after him that crossed the Leaf River, connecting "Cracker's Neck" to "Oak Bowery". He was one of 3 men who organized the first public schools in Jones County, in 1890. Like his father, Daniel, Sr., He raised a large family. He was a paternal leader of the community. He was also a member of the Masonic Order and a member of the Baptist faith. Margaret preceded him in death by about 15 years. Daniel and Norvel met and married their wives in an unusual manner. They started out fishing on Boguehoma Creek and made their way down to the mouth of it, where Boguehoma Creek runs into the Leaf River. They started up the Leaf River and after several days came to the old Welch Ferry, near where the Pitts Bridge would later be located. They had not caught enough fish to even feed themselves and met some of the Knight's and went to Cracker's Neck, near where Mr. Elmer Knight now lives. There Daniel would meet and later marry Margaret Knight and his brother, Norvel, would meet and later marry Margaret's neice, Mary Ann Knight.

integrity. He was a man of much wisdom. Alice was a good wife and mother and grandmother. Many days during the depression and later she worked in the fields as hard as any man. She was an asset to her family. Her father was the Reverend John Powell Nix (b. 9-12-1861, d. 10-2-1919) and her mother was Mattie Lovette (b. 2-28-1877, d. 7-2-1942) Mattie was John's second wife. He was first married to Caroline C. Hutto (b. 9-?-1864, d. 8-?-1897). He organized and preached at many church throughout Jones and Jasper Counties. The Nix family came from Abbeville, South Carolina in the early 1800's. Nowell and Virgie married sisters and brothers. Several of the Nix were preachers in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Nowell and Alice live on the old Port of Ferry road in Centerville. They owned a farm and raised their family there.

In the 1790 Census of Newberry County, 96 District, S.C., AARON PITTS is listed as head of a family with one male above 16, two males under 16, and one female. This indicates he was married and had two sons under 16. Aaron Pitts and his wife Nancy were members of the Bush River Baptist Church according to the roll book of the church 1792-1804.

Aaron Pitts made his will in Newberry Dist. S.C., Jan. 17, 1817, and soon afterwards moved to Jones Co. Ga., where he died. His will was probated there May 3, 1819; legatees named in the will were Nancy Pitts, his wife, and children Moses, Betsy, Westley, Lyzy, Nancy, Patsy and Drusilla Pitts; Executors, his wife Nancy and son, Moses Pitts. The most of the property was willed to his wife with this stipulation: If she should marry all the property given her and in her care during her widowhood, was to be sold and the money equally divided among said children.

On Aug. 16, 1853, William Ferrell appeared in court in Chambers County, Alabama, with a certified copy of Aaron Pitts' will from Jones Co. Ga., and asked for it to be probated in Chambers County, which was duly done; and he was appointed executor of the will. The proceedings show that the heirs of Aaron Pitts at that time were as follows: James Willis and Mary Willis, non-residents, in right of their mother, Betsy Willis, now dead, wife of Aaron Willis, formerly Betsy Pitts; Westley Pitts, a non-resident; Nancy, wife of said William Ferrell; Susan Leverett and Jane Leverett, adults, and Thomas Wesley Leverett, Temperance Leverett, Richard Leverett, and Drusilla Leverett, minors, in right of their mother Patsy Leverett, wife of Robert F. Leverett, residents of Randolph Co. Alabama; and Ann Pitts and Jerome Pitts, adults, and Julia Pitts, Lanza B. Pitts and Missouri Pitts, minors, in right of their mother, Drusilla wife of Isaac Pitts, formerly Drusilla Pitts, all non-residents; and the children of Moses Pitts, viz., Aaron B. Pitts, Elizabeth Cook, wife of Zion Cook, adults, and Chesley H. Pitts, Moses Pitts and James W. Pitts, minors, in right of their father (see Probate Minute Book #3, pp. 181, 288, 258, 194, 308, 406, and Book #4, pp. 176, 359, Chambers Co. Ala.). The Appraisers Records in same office contain a report of the sales of the estate property including sales of slaves. The will is recorded in Vol. #2, pp. 371-373, of Wills. In the proceedings William Ferrell stated that his wife Nancy nee Pitts was formerly of Macon Co. Ga.

Georgia Land Lottery records show the following: 1832 Lottery, Wesley Pitts, Liza Pitts, Hezekiah Pitts, all of Jones Co. Ga.; 1826 Lottery: Isaac Pitts of Jones Co. Ga.; 1821 Land Lottery: Levi Pitts of Jones Co. Ga.; 1832 Land Lottery: John Pitts and John Pitts (orphans), of Jones Co. Ga.

The children of Aaron Pitts married as follows: Betsy married Aaron Willis; Patsy married Robert P. Leverett; Nancy, married William Ferrell; Drusilla married Isaac Pitts; Lyzy Pitts, no record; Wesley Pitts, married Millie Childs; Moses Pitts married Lucinda Brooks.

MOSES PITTS died about 1845 in Newberry Co. S.C., where his estate was administered. His widow Lucinda, died Dec. 27, 1854. Children of Moses and Lucinda were: Aaron B. Pitts, Wesley S. Pitts, James W. Pitts, Chesley H. Pitts, Moses Pitts Jr., and Mary wife of Zion Cook. This estate of Lucinda Pitts was closed out in 1859 when all the heirs were paid their shares; Simeon Brooks was guardian of Wesley S. Pitts, minor. Aaron B. Pitts was the Administrator. (See Newberry Co. S.C., File 1855, 96, 251, 2385, in office of Probate Judge there). Said Moses Pitts Jr., son of Moses and grandson of Aaron Pitts, died in Cherry Valley, Ark., in 1935; he made his home with his son, James Moses Pitts, in his last years.

The G.A. Gen. May 1967 No. 23

Westley Pitts, son of Aaron and Millie Pitts, made his way to Copiah Co. Miss., in the 1840s and settled there; Allen Sumrall and Bud Higdon married into his family, as did others.

The estate of LEVI PITTS was administered in 1826 in Newberry Dist. S.C. Citation for administration was read at Bush River Meeting-House there. The estate records show that the following were his heirs: Sarah his wife, and children Chesley, Larkin, Jefferson, Huldah, Drury, Madison Pitts. Larkin Pitts, son of Levi, died about 1836. The papers in the estate case show that two shares of $105.1 each was yet to be paid to Chesley and Moses Pitts. Why did Moses Pitts share in the estate?

NATHAN PITTS' estate was also administered in Newberry Co. S.C. (see File Box 65, Pkg. 164, Estate #1690, in office of Probate Judge there). Nancy Pitts on July 20, 1842, gave her receipt "for my share in full of my father, Nathan Pitts deceased". On the same day Simon and Rebecca Brooks received for their share in full of the Nathan Pitts estate. Was she a daughter, and was she the wife of Aaron Pitts? William Pitts was the administrator of the estate, and the distributees were: Simon Brooks and wife Rebecca, Elijah Pitts, Amy Pitts, Nancy Pitts, William Pitts, Nelly (Eleanor) Pitts, William Coate and wife Elizabeth, Mary Pitts.

Editor's Note: Mr. Parker writes "I am trying to trace Aaron Pitts or his wife Nancy back to a Revolutionary War ancestor. For proof of their parents I am offering a reward of $10.00." He may be addressed: Rt. #1, Box #1, Liberty, Mississippi.

was born June 3rd. 1848."

The State of Miss. } I, J. U. Tissman, Notary Public and County } of Pascagoula miss. do hereby certify that Daniel Pitts, presenting to me this day a very old looking family Bible, very badly mutilated, by his recording in it dates as far back as 1784, but so far to find the date name was published by that name Alone of his birth being no record of name or allusions by further that same entry appears to be a very old one & further entry that same Person also had this recording in it. Daniel Pitts was born January 1st 1797 - by that Daniel Pitts says that he was his father, by that he is not aware as to why recording this name as Daniel Pitts Senior.

Witness my hand as of this April 7-1913.

April 8, 1985

Dear Mrs. Edwards,

Thank you so very much for your letter. I have enclosed a family group sheet with the information as I know it. All the names and dates you sent on the Pitts Family match everything that I have except the name Odom that my great-great-grandfather married. All our family records, including the headstone at the cemetery and the census records for Nacogdoches County, list her name as Laney. However, Lucy Adaline could have been her real name and Laney a nickname.

Also on both Nehemiah's and James's Confederate pension record they said they lived in Ellisville. This is now located in Jones County. I don't know anything about the early counties of Mississippi, but I assume Perry must have been the parent county. When I researched the census records, their family was listed in Perry County.

I really know very little about the Pitts Family outside of Texas. However, if you need or would like to know anything further about the family in Texas I will be happy to supply it.

Sincerely yours,
Nancy Pitts Rogers
